A surface made of modules

Modulos surface is comprised of Modules - surface tiles each capable of being connected to another one in any direction providing you with infinite possibilities. Since there are various models of modules with different functionalities available, you can create a surface that works the best for you, with functionalities spread out exactly how you like them. And if you need to change your desk, you can simply rearrange or add new modules. No need to throw your old desk just because your needs have changed - with Modulos, your desk follows the change of your needs!

Super practical

Getting your new Modulos desk is a breeze! Simply configure your desk, order it and easily assemble it once it arrives! And the beautiful thing is that you can reconfigure your desk later or upgrade it by ordering new modules or legs. Never again experience issues when moving into a new space or redecorating your existing one.

Create your configuration

Use our simple and powerful configurator to create your own desk configuration or, alternatively, add element by element to cart

Assemble it and enjoy

Easily assemble your desk once it arrives - we supply you with all the tools needed for assembly.

Reconfigure / upgrade

Damaged a part of surface? Decided to move or redecorate? Just reconfigure your desk and/or order additional elements from us!

Get a discount on your modules for ordering more of them

Looking to configure your next desk? We have prepared discount steps for ordering more modules in a single order. That way the price per module goes down with the amount you purchase!

Uncompromising material quality

We pride ourselves in our engineering and craftsmanship. However, we know that a top quality product starts with great materials. That's why, since our very beginning, we have offered only the top quality materials for our modules. Our two product lines, Aeon and Heritage, are based on the materials used - Aeon being based on super hi-tech nano-based ultraresilient materials, and Heritage grounded in the beauty of top quality natural wood.

Environmentally responsible by reducing waste

Currently there's a lot of material being just thrown away because the old desk got scratched in one place of the surface, it's leg broke, it's become too small or too big. The Modulos idea of owning a desk battles this wasteful practice. Why throw away good material and then cut down a bunch of trees for the new one, when you can replace only the part that you don't need or upgrade the whole thing?
